Description

1. Create a new point shapefile.

2. Start editing.

3. Insert several points.

4. Notice that all the points have the same ID (number that it's shown close to the point).

Not sure about the effect that this may have.

The number is the index of the vertex in each geometry.

In this case, they are points, so the point is always the first vertex (index = 0)
