Description

Steps in order to reproduce the bug:

- add the camaras.csv table, setting:
 - ISO-8859-1 as encoding;
 - X and Y as geometry fields;
 - EPSG:23030 as CRS.
- create and activate a view;
- click on "Add event theme" button.

Result: the "Apply a transformation" window is empty, no table is available to be added as event theme. (The CSV table is loaded correctly).

History

#1 - 08/29/2017 01:10 PM - Joaquín del Cerro Murciano

- Target version changed from 2.4.0-2850-final (rev. org.gvsig.desktop-2.0.220) to 2.4.0-2835 (rev. org.gvsig.desktop-2.0.202)

#2 - 08/29/2017 01:17 PM - Antonio Falciano

Further info: if I add the table without setting the geometry fields and the CRS in the CSVStoreParameters dialog, then I can set the geometry fields and the CRS in the transformation wizard and finally add the event theme in the view without problem.

Setting also the right localization doesn't help to solve the issue. The "Apply a transformation" dialog is always empty, so it's not possible to add the event theme.

Creo que simplemente al añadirlo como tabla (y no directamente a la Vista), no debería estar activa la pestaña de Geometría. Si se añade así, tal y como indica Antonio, permite añadir sin problemas la capa de eventos.

Hi Alvaro,

I'm agree with you simply because the Geometry tab settings would be redundant with those of the "Apply a transformation" wizard.
